COMMANDERS COMMENTS

Acknowledgement & Respect

*By Col Mark Chidley
Commander, 132d Wing*

On June 1, 1954, Congress passed an amendment to change the name of Armistice Day to Veterans Day so November 11th could become a day to honor American veterans of all wars, and not just those of World War One. Later that fall, President Eisenhower issued a proclamation stating that on November 11th “let us solemnly remember the sacrifices of all those who fought so valiantly, on the seas, in the air, and on foreign shores, to preserve our heritage of freedom.” This holiday is about each of us currently serving at the 132d Wing, and all those who preceded us in uniform. It is a day to acknowledge our sacrifices and pay respect to all of us willing to defend our country with our lives. I encourage you to participate in a Veterans Day event and to humbly accept the thanks of your fellow citizens.

Another opportunity to recognize the members of the 132d Wing will happen on Saturday morning of November Drill when we will acknowledge many of our fellow Airmen for their accomplishments over the past year during the Annual Awards Ceremony. It is the one time a year that the entire Wing gathers in one place as a team and I genuinely look forward to it. I will also hold a commander's call after the awards ceremony to recap the events of FY19 and discuss our vision for FY20. Please be in your seats by 0715, and unless you are on mission, this is an old fashioned mandatory event. So please be prepared to enjoy it!

Hopefully everyone is also aware that Saturday night is our Second Biennial Wing Military Ball. Over 450 people have signed up for the event at the Sheraton Hotel at 1800 50th Street in West Des Moines. The Social Hour starts at 1730 and the fun runs until 2200. Our planning committee has done a great job putting this together and it should be a great time. Please come ready to have fun, and just as importantly, with a plan to get home if you are drinking. Don't make a bad decision that can have disastrous consequences for you, or worse yet, another driver. The final event over drill is the Medical Group's Frequent Deployer lines. If you don't know when you are scheduled to process through, please check first thing on Saturday.

Finally, thank you to everyone who participated in the Resiliency Tactical Pause events so far this fall. Your feedback is appreciated. This is another part of our continuing effort to increase all of our ability to bounce back from hard situations. We all have stuff going on in our lives outside of work, on top of the stress of our jobs, which can sometimes seem unmanageable. Please keep looking left and right and in the mirror and then help each other get help when we need it. Thank you for serving strong at the 132d Wing.

Have a great drill weekend! And remember to fall back an hour for Daylight Savings on Saturday night!

ENVIRONMENTAL

Sometimes you really want to let your car warm up

For all the rest of the time, it only takes 30-60 seconds for the fluids to warm up enough to drive. A better (and faster) way to warm your vehicle is to simply drive off slowly. City ordinances limiting vehicle idling are becoming more common. Reducing idling has benefits for air quality, public health, and it saves money.

SAFETY

November Safety Focus Area

Winter Safety Tips

- Take it slow and stretch out before you begin.¹
- Lift with your legs, not your back
- Push the snow rather than lift it
- If your blower jams, turn it off before removing the jammed snow.¹
- Refuel your snow blower when it is off, never when it is running!

Winter Driving Safety Tip 1: Don't wait until winter's in full swing to get your car checked!

- Get your car checked out BEFORE the first snow fall.
- To avoid carbon monoxide poisoning make sure you move your vehicle out of the garage when you start it.
- Make sure to have a survival kit in your vehicle in case you get stuck somewhere.
- Keep your gas tank above half full.
- If at all possible avoid driving in a storm. If you can, wait it out till the storm has passed.
- Increase your following distance to 8-10 seconds and accelerate and decelerate slowly.
- If possible, try not to stop while going uphill.
- You can find more safety tips at nsc.org.

CHIEF'S CORNER

132d ISRG Fulfills Wing Commanders Initiative!

By Chief Master Sgt. James Holwegner

Fifteen Airmen of the 132d Intelligence Surveillance Reconnaissance Group took leave on Friday afternoon, October 18th, to volunteer at the Mid-Iowa Council Fred Maytag II Scout Center in Des Moines, Iowa. The team performed landscape work for the Maytag Center in preparation for winter, removing old mulch, weeds, fabric and then covering the areas with new mulch.

"It looks great and was very timely as we had a regional training event here on Saturday where just under 100 people from surrounding states came," said Dan Maier, Mid-Iowa Council Camp Director.

The Scout Center provided the material and tools for this event and the 132d ISRG provided the labor. The Maytag Center services the surrounding 20 counties, has 20 thousand users per year and the Mid-Iowa Council supports over 20 thousand scouts.

"Volunteering for the scouts is important to me because the boy scouts program does so much for the community and it is rewarding to be able to help them out when they need it," said Airman 1st Class Tera Jones, 132d ISRG.
